

HAND-TIED

Caring for your bouquet

1. Unwrap it and recut every stem — about an inch, at a sharp angle, with scissors or a knife. This matters more than anything else on this card.
2. Into a clean vase with fresh water and the flower food we have enclosed. A dirty vase is the commonest cause of a short life.
3. Strip any leaf below the waterline. Leaves left in water rot and cloud it.
4. Keep the binding point tied if you like the shape as it is — it is spiralled to stand on its own.
5. Fresh water every other day, and a quick recut each time if you have a moment.
6. Cool, out of the sun, away from ripening fruit.

Any trouble at all, write to us — we would always rather know.
